Terms and Conditions

In securing a space at the business expo, a business is entitled to use this outlet to distribute free-samples of their products and promote their service or brand to the audience on the day.

This might also involve handing out printed marketing materials – flyers, brochures, business cards, and obtaining sales leads through engagement. However, Fair by the Sea Inc. will not permit the direct selling of products or services or any exchange of payment or deposit from commercial style stalls at this event.

Approval of this application is subject to review by the Fair by the Sea organising committee.
